

All your aviation charges at our usual high collection rate

Don't let billing and collection hassles weigh you down, trust E&F to handle all of your aeronautical and user charges.

As a valued client, you already know the excellent service E&F provides. You have put your trust in us to take care of an important part of your business. But did you know that we can bill and collect all of your aeronautical and user charges? Using E&F for all of your charges will simplify your invoicing and debt management process, making your life that much easier. Isn't it time you put your invoicing and collection troubles to rest?

On-time collection of all your user fees

E&F currently collects over 100 different charges for more than 120 airports and 30 FIRs worldwide. From landing fees to overflight fees to passenger service charges, we can bill and collect from any airline you do business with, in over 20 different currencies.

With the high collection rate that you know us for, we ensure you get your money in a timely manner. You can now spend less time worrying about late payments and more time growing your business. E&F can handle a wide range of charges on your behalf, including:

- ➔ Landing charges
- ➔ Parking charges
- ➔ Overflight charges
- ➔ Passenger service charge
- ➔ Airport development fee
- ➔ Airport security fee

Collect in your preferred currency

E&F currently collects in over 20 currencies from around the world. We can collect in the currency of your choice, or collect in different currencies from different airlines. You and your clients now have several options to settle the charges. This not only simplifies your billing process, but ensures the smooth operation of your business, saving you both time and money.

Collect from more airlines with one simple service

A trusted name in the industry, IATA E&F can handle charges from both IATA members and non-IATA member airlines. These charges are then consolidated into one easy billing procedure. This makes life easier not just for you but also for your clients, the airlines. Airlines can now manage their accounts more efficiently. E&F provides streamlined invoicing, flexibility in invoice payment, and a single contact point for questions or disputes. The result: fewer late payments and faster collection of charges. It's a win-win situation.
